

- For each feature, we should git branch so we can separate out everything and then push it to main
  - Once we are sure it is working, then push branch to main
- Move all user stories into the “to-do” section
- Get a working application by next meeting that we can show
- Consider scale of data to dump into database
- By next meeting, get the data dumped into local database so we can do ui and other features(filter, search, review... )
